

Course Title	A Level Art
Aims of the Course
The Art course encourages personal, creative and imaginative approaches to art and design using a multitude of media (Painting, drawing, sculpture, digital art).
What will you study?
The course allows students to follow a broad, open course, or to specialise in one preferred way of working across a structure of three units over 2 years. Students work with both traditional and modern media to produce creative, conceptual responses to given themes. The main emphasis is on personal development and building up of a portfolio both for assessment and progression onto higher levels. This is achieved through the wider development of formal visual art skills and gradual development of more individual expressive ways of working (process and technique). The work of Artists, both traditional and contemporary plays an important role in the development of coursework and thereby encourages the students to broaden their subject knowledge and contextual understanding.
How will you be assessed?
The full A level qualification is made up of two coursework projects and one externally set assignment, (Exam). All work is internally marked then externally verified by a visiting moderator.
What wider skills will you develop?
Visual presentation and extended writing skills (academic study) Critical thinking skills via group critiques and personal review A lifelong appreciation for the Arts underpinning (the soft skills of) lateral thinking & problem solving.
What are the future options from the course?
Further study at university such as Arts Foundation or degrees in Fine Art, Photography, Architecture, Graphic Design amongst others. Careers in the Visual/ Creative/ Performing Arts.
